

Mrs. Gallatin – Woodrow's new Assistant Principal

After 15 wonderful years of teaching and growing at Woodrow Wilson Middle School, I'm excited to announce that I'll be transitioning into a new role as Assistant Principal here at Woodrow. It's been an incredible journey serving as your 6th grade math teacher and team lead, as well as coaching volleyball and softball, and I'm grateful for the countless memories and experiences we've shared over the years.

As I step into this new chapter, my commitment to our students, staff, and community remains as strong as ever. I look forward to supporting all stake holders in fostering an environment of growth, collaboration, and success. Together, we'll continue making Woodrow Wilson Middle a place where our students feel challenged, supported, and inspired.

Outside of school, you can usually find me running, spending time with my beagle, Maycie, or enjoying the company of my family and friends. I'm excited to bring the same passion and dedication that I've shared with you all to this new leadership role.

Here's to many more years of working together to make our school even better!
